WAR ON TURKEY STIRS OLD ANIMOSITIES; DIPLOMATS IN FEAR OF GENERAL OUTBREAK

PARIS, March 29.—War clouds are banking up in the Balkans and Asia Minor, with ramifications throughout Europe, as the result of the Greek offensive against the Turkish Nationalists. Relations between Athens and Rome are strained to the snapping point, the Greeks announcing a blockade of Asia Minor and accusing the Italians of smuggling war munitions to aid Mustapha Kemal Pasha. Serious results are feared if a Greek warship encounters an Italian blockade runner carrying arms and shots are fired if the Italian ship refuses to halt at command.

In the meantime Rumania has nelles and insisting upon equal vot ing power with the Greeks and

He apparently decided to collect new ammunition, however, when forms of political acrobatics as Randallism and Johnsonism be forever banished from the State.

COMPLETELY ROUTED.

Randallism and Johnsonism be forever banished from the State.

COMPLETELY ROUTED.

Opposition forces were completely routed when Floor Leader "Jack" Pettis arose and delivered a fiery address favoring passage of the bill. Whatever hopes the Madsen and McCabe faction may have entertained disappeared as legislator after legislator took the lead of Pettis.

Due to the obscurity surrounding McCabe's long-distance campaign from San Francisco to defeat the bill many legislators expressed an uncertainty as to whether McCabe and Madsen were acting independently of Stephens or with his knowledge and consent.

It is a foregone conclusion that Lleut.-Gov. Young, one of the principal authors of the original nonpartisan law, will lead the fight against the Assembly bill when it reaches the Senate.

BAD DAY FOR McCABE.

Altogether, McCabe, who is regarded as the commander-in-chief of State administration activities had a bad day in the Legislature, his bill introduced in the Senate by Burnett was exposed as a bold attempt to strengthen the State machine and was finally carried over for consideration tomorrow. Senator Burnett frankly admitting that clauses in the bill called to his attempt to strengthen the State mand to strengthen the State mand chine and was finally carried over for consideration tomorrow. Of the Duo-Art Reproducing Piano Cortot says:

REALLY do not know what to say of your magnificent Duo-Art Piano, which has not already been said and in the most enthusiastic manner, by all my eminent fellow-pianists. I am entirely in accord with their opinion when they say that no instrument approaches the Duo-Art Piano in its perfection of construction and the fidelity of musical reproduction.

"But I go even further. I believe sincerely that this marvelous creation is of the greatest interest for the development of musical taste. I see in the Duo-Art, an instrument capable of developing, even in those considered rebellious to musical sentiment, an enhanced comprehension of its highest manifestations.

"Surely the Duo-Art has a beautiful mission to fulfill. It is a superb contribution to the art of music.'

CHICAGO. March 29.—Johnny

"We'll play Horemans for the world title at any time, winner take all, and post any amount from $1000 to $25,000 to guarantee the match," said Benjamin.

"Willie is ready to play at any time, as the billiard season is near its close." This is taken to mean that Hoppe is willing to meet Horemans this fall and as early as the first match of the season.

The Horemans match has been proposed to Hoppe on the percentage basis. To this Hoppe and his manager object, citing other championship matches in which he has played on a winner-take-all basis. Such was the contest in which hoppe won the world's title from Maurice Vignaux in Paris in 1906, a match with Sloson sixty days later and numerous contests with Sutton, Kline, Morningstar, Jake Schaefer, Sr., and Calvin Demarest.

There are little incidents from time to time which break the monotony of training.
Not a few local fans still retain memories of the little party arranged for the Angels at Elsinore in 1916. Each member of the club received a printed invitation inviting him to be present at an al frescoall given by the "Girles" Glee Club of Elsinore" at the Hotel Lucerne. The result was a lot of fresh hair cuts and a strong play on the haberdashers.

Returning to town, the athletes silently siid out of the rear end of the truck one at a time until it was empty, and the driver is still looking for his money or, rather, loudly looking for it.

The rather taciturn and quiet John J. McGraw has an eye that insists on twinkling even when his countenance is most grave, and this may explain why he is fond of a practical joke.

Down in Texas, John pulled one on Ted Sullivan that wins the barbed-wire violin bow. And when he craves a joke, Mac doesn't consider the financial expense.

One dull day he remembered Sullivan and his country-famous baselivan and his country-famous base-

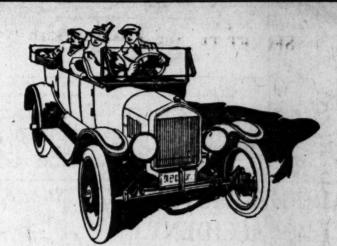

One dull day he remembered Sullivan and his country-famous baseball lecture with illustrations. So he sent for Ted to come and give this in Dallas, Tex. Mr. Sullivan was with the White Sox and Giants during their trip around the world, and secured a number of interesting photographs which he used in his lecture by means of a stereopticon. One of these showed King George leaving Buckingham Palace to attend the ball game, and another showed Ted himself standing on the bow of the Lusitania waving the American flag. These pictures were particularly adaptable when the war broke out.

Announcement of the lecture brought out a big crowd. When the picture of King George was flashed it was the orchestra's cue to play "God Save the King," and when came the one showing Sullivan on the Lusitania with the flag the orchestra' was supposed to strike up the "Star Spangled Banner."

But McGraw had tampered with the orchestra leader. When the picture of King George was flashed, accompanied by appropriate remarks, the orchestra started up "Wacht am Rhein."

According to the Speedway's official clocker, who is on the job early and late for the officials' own information, the Deusenberg pair equalled the best record De Palma ever made in practice.

DIFFERENT SOUND.

The cars, according to the official Sherlock Holmes, emit a quite different sound than they did previously, the flat explosion which has always identified Deusenberg engines having been mellowed until the exhaust now resembles the purr of Defalma's Ballot. The aggregation of Deusenberg mechanics on the scene smiled benignly on the world at the end of the trials and it is believed certain that the little cars have been as greatly improved as had been hoped.

While Sarles and Murphy, representing the 'old guard' of the Deusenberg camp were out testing their machines before dawn yesterday, the two new aces, Eddie Pullen and Joe Thomas, were working on their cars under lock and key. Pullen's favorite mechanican was going all over the sleek new mount and reports are that the here of Santa Monica and Corona and Ascot will be out today for a few fast laps.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ESTES PARK (Colo.) March 29.

WENT TO HOSPITAL.

The night air there was a little sharp for him, and he developed a small abscess on his breast. His condition was no cause for alarm, but he went to the Pasadena Hospital and submitted to two slight surgical operations. His condition improved rapidly, a thing which caused him to decide on the homeward trip for the birthday party.

Shortly before coming to Pasadena for the last time Mr. Burroughs completed what he said would be his last book, the life of Henry David Thoreau. The manuscript was ready for his publishers before the end of the secrets of nature. He never made much of the discovery of new species, and nothing of cataloguing them, but delighted in finding for himself and revealing to others the charms of close contact with the birds, bees and flowers. The essence of his philosophy was always bright, in agreement with Browning, that "all's well with the world."

Mr. Burroughs began writing for the Atlantic Monthly at the age of 19. It was in 1874, after buying a small farm at Esopus, N. Y., that he seriously took up writing. "Camp-John Burroughs was the vener ing and Tramping" was a narrativ of his experiences on outings with Col. Theodore Rossevelt. Parts of it and several of his other books were penned in Southern California.

John Burroughs was the venerable dean of nature writers in the United States. Through a score of books he shared with countless readers his lifelong intimacy with birds, bees, flowers and the whole out of doors. His highly developed powers of observation and the charm of his interpretations were the marvel of his critics.

His flowing white beard, his kindly mein, his whole habit of life, and his literary style were rather reminiscent of that famous New England school of essayists a generation or two before him. His earliest writing, on "Expression," was at one time widely mistaken for the work of Emerson, a close reader of whom LOSE CITIZENSHIP: WERE FORCED TO FIGHT.

HIS NOTED BOOKS.

The titles of his books included "Winter Sunshine," "Locusts and Wild Honey," "Fresh Fields," "Indoor Studies," "Birds and Poets," "Signs and Seasons," "The Light of Day-Religious Discussions from the Standpoint of the Naturalist," "Literary Values" and "Ways of Nature. He was a friend of Walt Whitman and one of his books was an appreciation of him.

Riverby and Slabsides, Burroughs's retreats on the Hudson, became shrines for his many admirers, and those who made pilgrimages there were invariably received in the most democratic fashion by the celebrated naturalist.

On his seventy-fifth birthday he said: "Growing old is a kind of letting go. The morning has its delights and its enticements, the noon has its triumphs and satisfactions, but there are a charm and a tranquillity and a spiritual uplift about the close of the day that belong to neither."

HIS EARLY LIFE.

Of his early life there Mr. Burroughs himself has said:

"From childhood I was familiar with the homely facts of the barn and of cattle and horses, the sugarmaking in the maple woods in early spring, the work of the corn field, hay field and potato field, the delicious fall months with their pigeon and squirrel shootings, thrashing of buckwheat, burning of fallows—in—short, everything that smacked of and led to the open air and its exhilarations.

The aged naturalist left Pasadena last Friday, determined to reach home in time to celebrate his birth-day with a circle of prominent men on April 3. He was carried to the Pullman coach on a camp chair, and his secretary and physician, Dr. Clara Barrus, had him placed in his berth at once, so that he might rest.

The remnant of the gang went to Florida, where they are said to have made a fortune during the last four years fleecing millionaires who go there for the winter months. They opened a wire tapping office—a luxurious suite of rooms—in a building in Daytona. They called it the International Turf Exchange.

About two weeks ago the "Waco Kid" quarreled with the others over a split of the proceeds. He "squealed" again and a crowd of Daytona citizens mobbed the place and wrecked it.

It was then that the "Waco Kid" is said to have trailed off the Chicago police where Buckminster was. Buckminster was wanted in connection with the fleeding of Charles Worden, president of the First National Bank of Fort Wayne, Ind., out of nearly $100,-000.

Chicago detectives rushed to St. Augustine. The night they arrived and took Buckminster into custody the "Waco Kid" was dining at the Ponce De Leon. Twenty persons, half of them women in evening gowns, were in the dining-room at the time. Suddenly a volley of shots rang out. Women fled screaming from the room. The "Waco Kid" tell from his chair dead, with four 25-calibre bullets in his back. A fifth bullet had pierced his heart.

Although volume of business was greater than ever, and there is every indication of a continuation of buying activity, margins of profit were narrower than last year, due, of course, to substantially lower prices.

$1.66% to $1.25, and $2.16 to $1.50, is construed as a warning that the rail lines are going to make a fight to hold their transcontinental traffic against Panama Canal competition. Although experimental shipments of apples and oranges and other perishables by the canal route have brought good results, there is a feeling among the melon growers and other shippers of highly perishable products that the railroads have a distinct advantage for their use.

of the railroads and in other directions. Still, the outlook is decided by more encouraging, and while the market at times may display a halting attitude, due to profit-taking sales, the indications are for higher levels, based in a great many instances on merit.—Henry Clews.

AT HUNTINGTON BEACH.

The latest company to organize for Huntington Beach development is the Talbert Oil Company, composed of residents of the beach town and the surrounding ranches. The president, T. B. Talbert, has been a resident of Huntington Beach for many years, and also a member of the Orange County Board of Supervisors. The company has already started its well, which is located between the Standard Oil and the Miley Keck properties. It controls forty acres divided into seven plots.

HAY MARKET.

Receipts were light for the week. Theoretically the price-making factors are in favor of the growers, but according to the Alfalfa Growers of California, the only benefit received was that the market for hay about held its own while the markets for everything else in the line of food and feed products continued in their sagging tendency.

NO CHEAPER CRUDE.

There has been considerable speculation among oil producers, and consumers as well, as to the probability of the California market following that in the eastern part of the country and registering reductions; a speculation which seems to be rather effectually squeled by F. L. Hadiey, vice-president of the Union oil Company of Delaware, who says that prices of crude oils in California have not been affected in the least by reductions in oil fields east of the Rocky Mountains. "Conditions in this State seem to warrant the statement that crude oil prices will not be reduced," is his statement. This official also reviews the development work of his company in California. Why does he want the money? Is he able to pay the Interest promptly, and the Principal when due? Will I have to wait for my Interest and Principal, and have to sue to get my money back? Will I be borrowing trouble or investing my money if I make this loan?

> These are mighty important questions that every Investor, large or small, but especially the small investor, ought to ask before he parts with his savings—not afterwards. And the answers to his questions ought to be entirely satisfactory, otherwise there is great risk of delay and loss. Many men and companies seek to borrow

FINANCIAL AND TRADE REVIEW

LOS ANGELES STOCKS. LOS ANGELES STOCKS.

United Eastern gained another five points yesterday, selling up to 2.87 %, nearly 4000 shares changing hands on the way up from the opening at 2.82. The market generally was strong and in good shape without any radical price fluctuations. There was a heavy movement in oils. Midway Northern attained 67 % cents; National Pacific, 13 cents and Republic Petroleum, 35 cents.

FAILURES INCREASE.

After four successive weeks of reduction, commercial failures throughout the United States show a rising tendency. Last week the number was 309, comparing with 217 defaults the preceding week. A year ago when the business mortality was still abnormally moderate there were only 105 insolvencies. Although the Los Angeles district contributes very few to the total the increases come largely from the Pacific Coast States. THE HIDE MARKET;

A direct lien on the property benefited. Principal and interest guaranteed by the City of Hanford. Due serially from 1922 to 1931.

The City of Hanford is the County Seat of Kinga County and one of the richest and most prosperous cities in the San Joaquin Valley. It is surrounded by rich as ricultural land and is the center of large dairy, deciduous fruit and grain industries. Lucerne Township, in which the City of Hanford is located, is the richest township per capita in the United States.

As indicating the solidity and prosperity of Hanford, the entire delinquent and uncollected taxes of the City for the years 1918 and 1919 are less than $500:00

Proceeds of Bonds Enhance Values

Unlike many other bonds issued by cities the proceeds of these issues have gone to the direct and immediate betterment of the property affected and have not only enhanced the value of the property directly benefited, but have enhanced the property values of the whole city by providing well paved streets for the city traffic.

At 87.215% and interest, MEDFORD IRRIGATION DISTRICT Serial Tax Lien 6% Gold Bonds, due January 1, 1954, will yield 7% to the investor. This income is entirely free from all Federal Income taxes.

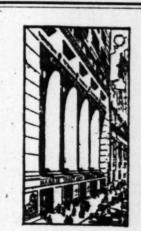

Based upon the 1920 schedule this corresponds to an income of 10% from an investment fully taxable in the hands of an individual whose net yearly income is

The holders of taxable securities—bonds with coupons bearing 5% or 6% and which are now selling at a discount—will do well to consider carefully the advisability of converting them into a security, the income from which is not taxable and which is also available at an attractive discount from its face value.

An executive or representative of this firm will gladly confer with any individual or banker who is interested in further details.

"Your Personal Bank"

WHEN business conditions

are in the process of readjustment there is a great deal of comfort in knowing that your money is invested in sound, well-chosen bonds.

A sound bond pays interest in periods of financial stress just the same as in normal times. Corporations may not pay dividends although they continue to pay the interest on their bonds. Governments and municipalities may abandon proposed public improvement while they keep on paying the interest on their bonds. As long as the financial structure of the world holds together, the owners of sound and properly safeguarded bonds can be practically sure of the security of their investment.

The Harris Organization has specialized for more than 38 years in the purchase and sale of carefully selected bonds. During this time we have bought with our own funds over three billion eight hundred million dollare ($3,800,-000,000) in bonds. The public has shown its confidence in these securities by buying bonds from us in increasing amounts each year until last year our bond sales were the largest in our history-over three times those of ten

Ask for our circular No. 515-B describing safe bonds yielding from 7 to 8 per cent.

We should like to discuss your investment problems with you. This will put you under no obligation whatever, and we will be just as glad to talk over an investment of a few hundred dollars as one of many thousands.

The commission will hardly have time to cover the ground outlined for the investigation and make its recommendations before President Harding lays his program before the next Congress. Its recommendations may be the subject of a later measure by the President to Congress after the needs of the service men are fully decided.
There has been so much doubt and so many contradictory statements regarding the extent and necessity of soldiers' relief that President Harding decided upon the appointment of the commission as the best means of clarifying the situation and formulating a policy that will prove beneficial to both, the ex-service men and, the government.

Lloyd George's george.

To one seeking additional information and hitherto unpublished facts relating to the peace negotiations at Paris in 1919, Mr. Lansing's book, "The Peace Negotiations," is a disappointment. It contains none of the necessary essentials of historical narrative. There is not sufficient detail to make its scenes dramatic and to awaken for its characters the sympathetic interest of the reader. It is not a history but a polemic. Mr. Lansing and President Wilson were in almost total disagreement concerning the form of treaty by which the World War should be ended. Mr. Lansing was uncompromisingly opposed to the Wilson plan for the League of Nations. He submitted his ideas in the form of a memorandum to the then President soon after he received a copy of Mr. Wilson's criginal draft. Mr. Wilson accepted it graciously but never afterwards referred to it.

Mr. Lansing resented this action deeply.

but never afterwards referred to it.

Mr. Lansing resented this action deeply. His book shows that he is of a proud and sensitive nature. He has brooded for two years in a self-enforced silence over what he considers his wrongs, and his book is a defense of his opinions and his actions. He reaffirms now the opinions he axpressed in a memorandum to Mr. Wilson on January 7, 1919. But if Mr. Lansing was right, Mr. Wilson must have been wrong. That is the motif of the production. Nearly the whole of the book is devoted to explaining Mr. Lansing's attitude and defending it. One learns a great deal about what was not done at the Paris conference and little about what actually happened. The somewhat labored explanations bring to mind the French maxim that "He who excuses accuses."

"He who excuses accuses."

Despite Mr. Lansing's contrary opinion, Mr. Wilson WAS the dominating, the commanding figure of the Peace Conference. Nothing to which he publicly expressed his disapproval was embedied in the Versailles Treaty. He may not have secured all that he desired; but his veto was never overridden. This cannot be-said of any of the other commissioners who took an active part in drafting the treaty. What the country looked for in Mr. Lansing's book was a historical record of what actually occurred. It was not prepared for a reopening of sores that were presumed to have healed with other wounds received during the war.

Mr. Lansing seems to have a wrong idea.

during the war.

Mr. Lansing seems to have a wrong idea of his own importance. The world is well aware that he rendered no assistance to Mr. Wilson at Paris, that he failed utterly to rank with Lord Cecil, Mr. Balfour and Gen. Smuts. And his book gives one the impression of an excuse brought by one who has been intrusted with an important mission and has failed. By reason of the high position which he held, his narrative of the peace negotiations was awaited with a great deal of interest; but, to speak frankly, Mr. Lansing is as much of a failure at an author as he was as a peace commissioner. One has but to refer to the me ay an author as he was as a peace commissioner. One has but to refer to the index to discover that it contains more references to Robert Lansing than to any other person who took part in the conference. It is not enlivened with a single flash of humor. In fact, it is the effusion of a man with a grouch, and such works are seldom interesting.

BRITAIN'S SOLVENCY.

H. Gordon Selfridge, a Chicagoan owning one of the largest department stores in London. Eng., has been discounting the stories of gloom and bankruptcy anent Great Britain's financial status.

"England," he says, "is in for a great commercial advance and there is no pos-sibility of funking on her debts."

In which connection we are reminded that Britain has ever been her own severest critic and a good deal of a pessimist. To read her newspapers, even in her most prosperous era, was to gain an impression that her government was weak and incapable, that the empire was disintegrating and her foundation rotten to the core. Optimism in an Englishman is regarded as something vulgar, distinctly flighty, and indicating rather a depraved disposition. Just as they have been accused of taking their pleasures seriously, disposition. Just as they have been ac-cused of taking their pleasures seriously, so they invariably take their prosperity gloomily. The average Englishman can be trusted to act as though the tax assessor was on hand and any admissions of prosperity would militate to his disadvantage.

But Mr. Selfridge is a buoyant American who declines to assimilate this peculiarly British characteristic. He points out that the British thrive on this sort of gloom and sothing so spure them on to greater effort than a go of pessimism. Hence, the present utterly gloomy propaganda will have nothing but a tonic effect on the British constitution and it will be most unwise for us to waste much sympathy on her. The British have been accused of being a nation of shopkeepers, every one of them confidently on the verge of bankruptcy and paying heavy income taxes the while. That is their little way. Ours is a good deal more cheerful, but not necessarily more profitable in the long run. Just as in the war, hideous disasters merely spurred the British on to superhuman comebacks, and that, while they were always on the verge of "demoralization," so her trade competitors will find that when she is most gloomy she is most dangerous. It is the sunny rippling stream that is shallow; dark still waters run deep.

THE WAYS OF A JURY.

I Gilbert K. Chesterton says that in Engiand or almost any other spot but Oklahoma a jury would have felt reductantly compelled to hang Clara Smith Hamon. In Oklahoma they gave Clara a "God bless you" and sent her blithely on her way. Chesterton says that he talked with one of the jurors at Ardmere and that worthy explained that the question was whether it was not best that Hamon was out of the way and, that being agreed to, it was decided that Clara was the best instrumentality. The law or the evidence had nothing to do with the case. The English satirist says that if he had written the plot he would have had Hamon kill Clara. It would have made a better story. The English mind frequently stands pussied before an American jury and American jurisprudence. They can do things here in the name of the law that baffle the British courts. They can't blame it on prohibition wither.

CONCESSIONS TO THE WALKING DELEGATES.

Ugly reports are coming from Sacramento concerning the demands made by the labor unionists in exacting their pound of flesh for the labor union votes delivered in the Assembly for the malodorous King tax bill. When the fate of that bill was still hanging in the balance a sudden switch was made of enough union labor votes to secure its passage. Those familiar with Sacramento, politics com-State will have to pay for that switch be-

Part payment has come in the way of the announcement that Paul Scharrenburg, friend and supporter of the notorious Tom Mooney and one of the most radically inclined of all the wade State Lebes for the payment. clined of all the walking delegates in the State, is to be made State Labor Commissioner. Scharrenburg was in Sacramento lobbying for the King tax bill when the switch was made. It is within the Governor's power to appoint Scharrenburg to that place although the result will be to make the bureau a hotbed of labor-unionism and a measor to the industrial welfare of the State. And the Governor himself is apparently in the newer of a nolitiself is apparently in the power of a politi-cal machine, of which the labor unions are

One wonders why it is that the Governor does not discover that whenever he runs for office the labor union strongholds of the State always pile up a majority for his opponent, as they did in the last election for Governor. They first supported Rolph and then Bell. Yet, the political Roiph and then Bell. Yet, the political ring that surrounds the Governor have made him believe that, next year, the labor unions will carry San Francisco for him, provided the Governor gives them what they want now. It is humiliating to the real friends of Gov. Stephens in this part of the State to see him doing things for the state to see him doing things for the unions that cannot help him and that can do a great deal of injury to the Hard on the beels of the announcement of Scharrenburg's selection comes the in-troduction in the Assembly, with boasted administration support, of certain amend-ments intended to draw the teeth from the Criminal Syndicalism Act. The bill provid-ing for these amendments was introduced by a member of the labor union gang and it is assured of the solid labor union sup-

Two years ago the Legislature passed a criminal syndicalism act that proved a great assistance to the peace officers of the State in combatting the propaganda of the Reds and the Communists. It was not at all popular with the radical element of the labor unions; but it served to curb the activities of the Red agitators. The union labor lobby at Sacramento now demands that the law aball be so weakened by amendments that it will become innocuous; and reports from Sacramento are to the effect that a number of known friends of the administration are for the amendments.

What argument do you suppose they are advancing in favor of pulling the teeth of the syndicalist act? They say that in its present form it could not sustain a court attack and that they are only making certain that it can be enforced. Plausible enough, if one does not happen to know the hypocritical habits of the ring by which the Governor is guarded. The act has been on the statute books for two years and a number of convictions have been secured under it. Certainly it would be time enough to amend it when some of its provisions had been pronounced unconstitutional.

In his message to the Legislature in

In his message to the Legislature in January the Governor made special men-tion of the criminal syndicalism law, astion of the criminal syndicalism law, asserting that "Any attempt at this time to interfere with or modify in any sense its salutary provisions should be most stermly resisted." But that was before the opposition to the King tax bill developed. Administration supporters may disclaim any connection between the passage of the King bill and the support developing for the amendment to the Syndicalism Act; but the people of the State will regard it as significant that every member of the Assembly who has expressed himself as favoring amending the syndicalism bill voted for the King tax bill. It is by their acts, not by their professions, that politicians must be judged.

Activities of the union labor lobby have Activities of the union labor lobby have been reported in several other directions. The walking delegates are asking for more in the present session than they have demanded at any other session in recent years. Their attitude throws some light on the recent assertion of a Los Angeles walking delegate that the labor union support of the King bill was the best bargain driven by the unions since the State Federation of Lebor was corasined. eration of Labor was organized.

The Governor is going to have one made on the lines of a dreadnaught that will be capable of shoveling the gold through the window at the rate of about a million dollars a minute. Sothing less than that can satisfy the spending powers of the frenzied financiers who are looting the State capital.

ciers who are looting the State capital.

A committee of the Assembly labored for a month on the advertised purpose of paring the budget. They were presumed to have reviewed all the items of the magnificant total of $81,587,000 which the leeches expect. As a result of their labors they proudly announce that it will be possible to raduce the budget about $350,000! At least $900,000 of this is explained as

That is what the Sacramento squadron of squanderers are doing to the taxpayers.

CLEAN JOURNALISM ESSENTIAL TO PUBLIC SAPETY.

It is charged that the sansational stories published in Hearst's Los Angeles Examiner were responsible for the rioting at the California School for Girls at Ventura. Superintendent Mary A. Hill and Trustee-Mrs. L. B. Hogue in a press interview expressed indignation at the disastrous results of personal animosity of unscrupilous publishers. It will be remembered that the Hearst papers were also charged with the death of President McKinley when the vicious attacks in New York incited a half-witted anarchist to the assassination of a really good and noble man. Presh in our memory are the pro-German, un-American editorials of the Hearst papers, which incited to violence and traitorous acts the Bolahevik element in this country during the war. And his recent efforts to harass and annoy a reputable business firm in Los Angeles because it refused to advertise in his papers is only another evidence of Hearst's unclean journalism in the use of his publications to wreak personal vengeance upon his enomies. Every effort to repudiate and boycott the Hearst papers has been unsuccessful because there has never been any organization for "clean journalism." with branches in every community.—[The Worth While national organization national organization journalism," with branches in journalism," [The Worth Wh

The conclusion must be that Great Britain would not turn a deaf ear to proposals for armament reduction to an irreducible minimum, and that Japan might easily be won over if the United States would take the lead or make the first advance.—[New York Times.

We have had disarmament—the World War found us in that condition, it was more expensive than reasonable and defensive armament would have been. That disarmament, that unpreparedness, and not new battleships, is exactly what we are new paying for with heavy taxes on our breakfast tables and our backs.—[Boston Transcript.

Senstor Johnson seems to be forgetting his opposition to the United States having "anything to do with abroad." Something can be done at once by taking advantage of the provision of the naval act of 1916 for a conference on disarmament. Something can be done by a pledge on the part of Congress to act in sympathy with any practical measures recommended by the League of Nations for a reduction of armaments, although Mr. Harding is still trying to fool himself with his world-court substitute.—[New York World.

The United States by a wise use of its professional army and by a wise development and maintenance of necessary material producing industries and crafts can have the basis upon which it could rally its men in time of need. The men will suffer because they will be organized without experience, but at least they will have the branches of higher skill in existence. This does not impose the burden of what pacifists and careless people call a great militaristic system. It merely affords the tools and the skill needed in the conduct of war. BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Mrs. Stephens Entertains.

A music-tea was given yesterday by Mrs. Albert Miller Stephens of 611 South Kingsley Drive as a fitting way with which to begin the after-Ensier season.

The house was a riot of spring flowers in every shade, with many branches of peach, almond and pear blooms to add grace and color to the decorative scheme. Tea was served in the dining-room and also in the breakfast-room, which were decorated alike.

Mrs. Chency Leaves.

Mrs. Albert Lieweilyn Chency left pesterday for Del Monte, where she will join Mr. Chency and their young laughter, Miss Catherine Chency, for several weeks' visit during the pologames. Mrs. Chency was one of the society women who were responsible for the success of the charity pageant and ball at the Ambassador Monday evening, she being on the Italian committee with Mrs. Michael J. Connell and Mrs. Samuel Brown Thomas.

At Handsome Luncheon.

Mrs. Cameron Erskine Thom was hostess at a luncheon of handsome appointment Monday. Around a table exquisitely adorned with an array of fruit blossoms and other mixed flowers, plates were arranged for Judge and Mrs. La Rue Munson of Pennsylvania, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Holladsy, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Jessup Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Allan C. Balch. Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt, Judge Erskine M. Ross and George H. Ennis.

Mrs. Orr to Entertain.

Mrs. William Mead Orr is enter-taining at a luncheon today for a group of twelve and will have an-other luncheon company on April 7.

Schuyler Cole, Willoughby Cole and Reginald Jones and Misses Rose Marie Mullen, Eleanor Cole, Cor-nelia McLoughlin and Olive Waring.

For Two Girls,

Miss Anne Roby, a charming eastern girl who is visiting Miss Anne Morse in Pasadena, and Miss Nanettee Francisco, whose engagement to Herbert McCaffey was announced in the winter, shared honors at a lovely tea, at which three sisters, Misses Margarita, Camilla and Rowens Schneider, entertained yesterday at their home in Lafayette Park Place. One hundred and twenty-five guests from among the younger set were there.

The girls were assisted by Mrs. Charles. Thomas (Julia Hayward,) Miss Margaret Kellogg, Miss Cecelia Botiller, Miss Helen Burke, Miss Anne Morse, Miss Olga Simpson and Miss Florence Marsh.

Though denying the report that the Union Ice Company is involved in a warfare with ice distributors. S. A. Builânch, manager of that concern, announced yesterday that the company has decided to reduce its price from 70 to 60 cents a hundred pounds for family consumption on April 1, because, as he said, "It was about time that the price of ice dropped back to normal and families given as reasonably a low rate as possible."

He stated that, "though the cost of production is actually more new than it was a year ago, yet at the same time no company is going to lose by a similar reduction. The los companies, as far as I am aware, are involved in no warfare."

Other companies, including the Merchants' Ice Company, the Ice Distributing Company, which does not manufacture, but only distributes for the Los Angeles Ice and Coid Storage Company, the National ice Company, announced no similar reductions. C. C. Klingerman, manager of the Ice Distributing Company, said, however, that when one company makes a reduction others are likely to follow.

The reduction by the Union Ice Company sonly for ice consumed in family residences, not in apartment-houses or hy dealers.

NEW CHEERE CAKE.

Over on the west side of Broadway at a little coffee shop they serve a new cheese cake which is made by adding to one cup of sugar four tablespoons of creamed butter, two well-beaten eggs and one cup of water alternately with two and a half cups of flour sifted with two teaspoons of baking powder and a little salt, beat to a smooth batter and pour one-half into a cake pan. Beat two eggs with half a cup of cottage cheese, half a cup of cottage cheese, half a cup of ottage cheese, half a cup of mink and cooled before adding. Pour this mixture over the batter in the pan and pour over the rest of the batter. Bake in a slow oven forty minutes. Sprinkle sugar and cinnamon over when baked.

The Shoe of

Invisible Comfort

and Visible Style

A common complaint of the American women is weak feet or "broken arches."

Half the cases being treat-ed for rheumatism are really nothing more nor less than strained and painful mus-cles resulting from flat feet.

Furnish the proper sup-port to your suffering feet and your "rheumatic" symp-toms will vanish.

You owe it to yourself to see this wonderful shoe.

Established 1888 Ease-All

Arch-Supporting Shoe for Women

"Only its style is seen - its comfort is felt."

'Tis an untold pleasure to wear this remarkable shoe of perfect ease and distinctive style. An invisible built-in arch sup-port that firmly yet gently holds up the arches gives instant relief to tired and aching feet.

The Ease-All appeals to every woman who until now has been unable to enjoy stylish shoes be-cause of "arch troubles."
